DECIDE TO CURTAIL ACREAGE A FOURTH.

Delegates From Nine Counties
Agree At Greenville—Sherman
Ball Is Honored With Offices.

A dispatch from Greenville of March 17 gives a comprehensive account of the delegate convention of the dark tobacco growers held there on that date. The deliberations of that convention are of interest to every farmer and every friend of the farmer among our readers, so we print the dispatch in full as follows:

"The convention held here today by the tobacco growers of the dark district proved to be a great success. The convention had been called by E. L. Davenport, president of the state department of tobacco growers of the A. S. of E., and every managerial district in the counties represented had one or more delegates present, the following being the counties: Muhlenburg, Daviess, Ohio Hancock, Henderson, McLean, Breckinridge, Union and Webster.

"A temporary organization was effected by electing W. S. Ball, of Breckinridge county, president and S. A. Burns, of Daviess, as secretary.

"A committee on resolutions was appointed as follows: Henry G. Overstreet, T. T. Barrett, E. L. Davenport, W. P. Stephens, Sam J. Baker, M. F. Sharp, Ben Watson and W. S. Ball. The committee retired and later reported a series of resolutions that were most heartily commended and unanimously adopted. The matter of chief interest in the resolutions is that recommending to all and pledging the convention and those represented in it as far as could be done that only 10,000 hills of tobacco be put out to the land this year and 5,000 hills for each half hand. The resolutions also defined a 'hand' to be a male between the ages of sixteen and sixty and a 'half hand' to be boys between twelve and sixteen. It was also voted that no county is to plant more than 75 per cent. of an average crop, the crops of 1903 and 1904 to be taken as the standards in estimating this average.

"Permanent officers of the association were elected as follows: Henry G. Overstreet, of Daviess, president; T. T. Barrett, of Henderson, vice president; W. S. Ball, of Breckinridge, secretary; S. T. Burns, of Daviess, assistant secretary. This is the 'Dark Tobacco' District association and all counties that grow dark tobacco are to be eligible to membership.

"There was an unusual turnout here today of local growers. The county union met and there were 1,300 men in the procession. By actual count there were 150 vehicles, 300 horsemen and twenty-five banners in the parade. At first the crowd attempted to assemble in the court house, but it was so small. The opera house, then secured and it was packed. The speakers were: Henry Overstreet, Daviess; T. T. Barrett, of Henderson; W. P. Stephens, of McLean, and W. S. Ball, of Breckinridge. Of these the principal address was by Mr. Overstreet. His effort was an unusually happy one and it received rounds of applause and cheers in every sense. The gathering was a notable one."

Champion Liment for Rheumatism.
Chas. Drake, a mail-carrier at Chapinville, Conn., says: "Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the champion of all liniments. The past year I was troubled a great deal with rheumatism in my shoulder. After trying several cures the store keeper here recommended this remedy and it completely cured me." There is no use of anyone suffering from that painful ailment when this liniment can be obtained for a small sum. One application gives prompt relief and its continued use for a short time will produce a permanent cure. For sale by Short & Hayes.

YOU CAN'T MISS THIS.

By saying you can't miss this, we mean, of course, you can't afford to miss it. "It" is the big picnic to be given on July 4 by Nobe Pate, Jubal Hook and W. N. Pate at the same old grounds near Hardinsburg. Don't forget the date and the fact that you can't miss this occasion.

CHILD DIES OF BURNS.

McQuady, Ky., March 21.—(Special.)—A child of Wm. Dorn's died Wednesday from severe burns received by falling into a fire on the preceding day. The internment was at the McQuady graveyard.

TOBACCO GROWERS MUCH ENCOURAGED.

Not So Many As Expected Need
A Warehouse Plan—Prospects
Favorable For Those Who Do.

It developed in the joint convention of tobacco growers of Hancock and Breckinridge counties, held at the city hall Saturday afternoon, that more members of some local unions of the American Society of Equity will be able to hold their tobacco at home and without warehouse plan than was first expected. A committee appointed by the convention to put a warehouse plan on foot are at work this week and have reported that prospects are favorable that a warehouse and an experienced man to manage it can be secured here, though the financial part of transaction has not been settled yet. The convention met for the express purpose of forming some warehouse plan to help only growers who are not in a position to hold their tobacco at home, because of indifferent barns or lack of money. Fifteen local unions in sections of the two counties nearest to Cloverport were represented. On next Saturday they will be represented again, when the committee will make its report to the delegates, and the delegates will make reports to the committee on the number of men in each local union who want their tobacco rebanded and want an advance on it and those who want their tobacco rebanded and do not want an advance.

The local unions were represented as follows:

Tarboro No. 1—Wash Robbins, Chas. Goff.
Duke No. 1—Robt. and Thos. McGavock.

Cloverport No. 1—Will Pumphrey, John Knight.

Mattingly No. 3—Owen Duncan, Malcolm O'Brien.

Mattingly No. 2—W. N. Pate, Isaac Blair.

Hardinsburg No. 3—Abc Meador.

Mattingly No. 1—Thos. M. Bates, A. B. Orum.

Hawesville No. 2—T. T. Simmet, Perry Tally, Bert Adkins.

Hardinsburg No. 5—C. M. Basham.

Cloverport No. 2—Jno. Warfield, McQuady No. 1—Will Lyons.

Hardinsburg No. 1—Silas Miller.

Cloverport No. 4—Jno. Farrow.

Victoria No. 2—Wm. Snyder.

Victoria No. 1—J. T. McGovern.

The convention was presided over by Henry Waggoner. The object of the meeting was explained by E. B. Oglesby who suggested the adoption of the Davies county Equity warehouse plan, a synopsis of which was published in the News last week, principally on the grounds that the plan had been accepted by the growers of that county after long consideration.

Robt. McGavock, after outlining a plan for a local warehouse, moved that a committee wait on the local banks and see if they would finance a local warehouse plan. This motion carried and the chair appointed Robt. McGavock and W. B. Taul on the committee.

During the absence of the committee there were many short talks made, the consensus of opinion being that tobacco should be held at home if by any means possible and if not possible, because of poor storage facilities and lack of money, at an Equity warehouse in Cloverport. That which was mentioned in the opening sentence developed, some delegates stating that they were strong almost to a man and believed in the local union helping its members to hold. And one at least, Cloverport No. 3, don't want to have anything to do with a warehouse, because they can help themselves.

Among those who made short talks were the following: T. M. Bates, Chas. Goff, Wm. Snyder, Henry Waggoner, Oscar McGavock, Thos. McGavock, Albert Orum, E. B. Oglesby, Will Pumphrey, Joseph Mullen, W. B. Taul, Malcolm O'Brien. From notes at hand valuable suggestions from each of these could be given, but space for them in this issue cannot be spared.

After most of the talks had been made, the committee that waited on the banks made their report. They said that the report from the cashier of the Breckinridge Bank was favorable but that he would have to confer with his associates this week before giving a definite answer. The cashier of the Bank of Cloverport told the committee that the institution would help farmers individually, as in the

TO EMPLOY TWENTY MEN.

Rock Quarry Near Town Will Soon
Have Full Force At Work.

The rock quarry about a mile and a half west of town, which was opened on Tuesday of last week, as was mentioned in the News, will soon be in full operation, giving employment to twenty men or more. The quarry will be operated by Joseph Zellars and Henry Heim, of Cannelton, who have the property leased from W. S. Ashby. The operators expect that all of the warmer months of the year will be required to get out stone for a new bridge to be built over Salt River by the Henderson Route, a contract for the material having been made between Heim & Zellars and the railway company early this year.

A switch has been put in by the Henderson Route at the quarry, which is on the main track, and derricks have been erected for moving the stone. It is understood that some of the men to be employed will be secured here.

The quarry has not been in operation for several years. It was formerly operated by C. L. Corwell, the well-known civil engineer of Louisville, who was in a serious condition several weeks ago as the result of being struck by a street car.

Startling Mortality.

Statistics show startling mortality, from appendicitis and peritonitis. To prevent and cure these awful diseases, there is just one reliable remedy, Dr. King's New Life Pills. M. Flannery, of 14 Custom House Place, Chicago, says: "They have no equal for Constipation and Biliousness." 25c at Short & Hayes, druggists.

DOING GREAT WORK.

Rev. J. T. Newsum, of Marfreesboro, Tenn., who conducted the recent revival at the M. E. church, South, is doing a great work at Hawesville, where he has been preaching daily at the Methodist church since Sunday, March 12. At one service during the past week there were ten conversions, at another seven and about six at another. Interest in the revival at Hawesville is growing and it is expected there will be more conversions before its close, which will not be earlier than next Sunday evening.

About fifty citizens of Cloverport attended either the morning or the evening service Sunday, paying tribute to the man and the minister for his worth and showing their appreciation of the great good he did in Cloverport. A large crowd will probably attend next Sunday, when train No. 48 will be held at Hawesville until the close of the evening service, as it was last Sunday.

By the Tonic Route.

The pills that acts as a tonic, and not as a drastic purge, are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They cure Headache, Constipation, Biliousness, etc. Early Risers are small, easy to take and a safe pill. Mack Hamilton, hotel clerk at Valley City, N. D., says: "Two bottles cured me of chronic constipation." Sold by All Druggists.

Before the adjournment of the convention, the committee mentioned in the first paragraph, composed of Taul and Robt. McGavock and W. B. Taul, was appointed by the chair, and Saturday was set as the date of the next joint convention.

The Simple Life

he is held by impressions or the present. Who, then, shall give him the first enlightenment and put him in the way he should go? The parents, the teachers. And with their work does not interest simply themselves and the child, but that they represent and administer impressions, powers and interests. The child should continually appear to them as a future citizen. With this ruling idea they will take thought for two things that complement each other—for the initial and personal force which is germinating in the child and for the social destination of this force. At no moment of the child's life can they forget that this little being confided to their care must become himself and a brother. These two conditions, far from excluding each other, never exist apart. It is impossible to be brotherly, to love, to give oneself, unless one is master of himself and, reciprocally, one can possess himself, compromise, unless one has first made his way through the outward accidents of his existence down to the profound springs of life where man feels himself one with other men in all that is most intimately his own.

To add a child to become himself and a brother is to add a constructive action of the forces of disorder. These forces are exterior and interior. Every child is menaced from without not only by material dangers, but by the mediocrity of alien wills, and from within by an exaggerated idea of his own personality and all the false it breeds. There is a great outward danger which may come from the abuse of power in educators. The right of might finds itself a place in education with extreme facility. To educate another one must have renounced this right—that is to say, made abrogation of the inferior sentiment of personal importance which transpires as into the enemies of others, even of our own children. Our authority is beneficial only when it is inspired by one higher than ourselves. To educate is not only salutary, but also indispensable, and becomes in its turn the best guarantee against the greater evil which threatens the child from within—that of exaggerating his own importance. At the beginning of life the vividness of personal impressions is so great that to establish an equilibrium they must be submitted to the gentle influence of a calm and superior will. The true quality of the office of educator is to represent this will to the child in a manner as continuous and as disinterested as possible. Educators, then, stand for all that is to be respected in the world. They give to the child impressions of that which precedes it, outruns it, envelops it, but they do not crush it. On the contrary their will and all the influence they transmit become elements nutritive of its native energy. Such use of authority as this cultivates that fruitful obedience out of which free souls are born. The purely personal authority of parents, masters and institutions is to the child like the brushwood beneath which the young plant withers and dies. Impersonal authority, the authority of a man who has first submitted himself to the time honored realities before which he wishes the individual faculty of the child to bend, resembles pure and luminous air. True, it has an activity and influences us in its manner, but it nourishes our individuality and gives it firmness and stability. Without this authority there is no education. To watch, to guide, to keep a firm hand—such is the function of the educator. He should appear to the child not like a barrier of wills, which, if need be, one may clear, provided the leap be proportioned to the height of the obstacle, but like a transparent wall through which may be seen undulating realities, laws, limits and truths against which no action is possible. Thus arises respect, which is the faculty of conceiving something greater than ourselves—respect, which broadens us and frees us by making us more modest. This is the law of education for simplicity. It may be summed up in these words: To make free and reverent men, who shall be individual and fraternal.

Let us draw from this principle some practical applications. From the very fact that the child is the future he must be linked to the past by play. We owe it to him to create tradition in the forms most practical and most fit to create a deep impression; whence the exceptional place that should be given in education to the ancients, to the cult of remembrance of the past, and by extension to the history of the domestic roof-tree. Above all do we fulfill a duty toward our children when we give the place of honor to the grandparents. Nothing speaks to a child with so much force or so well develops his modesty as to see us father and mother on all occasions prefer toward an old grandfather often infirm, an attitude of respect. It is a perpetual object lesson that is irresistible. That it may have its full effect it is necessary for a tact understanding to obtain among all the growing members of the family. To the child's eyes they must all be in league, held to mutual respect and understanding, united in the practice of that mutual respect which is one of the essential conditions of social sanity. I fear we profit by it too little. We do not fail to exact respect, but we fail to give it. So it is most frequently the case that we get only hypocrisy and this supplementary result, all unexpected—the cultivation of pride in our children. These two factors combined heap up great difficulties for that future which we ought to be safeguarding. I am right, then, in saying that the day when by your own practices you have brought about the lessening of respect in your children you have suffered a sensible loss.

Why should I not say it? It seems to me that the greater part of our labor for this base. On all sides, in almost every social rank, I notice that a pretty bad spirit is fostered in children, a spirit of reciprocal contempt. Here those who have calloused hands and working clothes are despised; there it is all who do not wear blue jeans. Children educated in this spirit make and fellow citizens. There is in all this the want of that solidarity which makes it possible for men of good intentions, of however diverse social standing, to collaborate without any friction arising from the conventional distance that separates them.

If the spirit of caste causes the loss of respect, partnership, of whatever sort, is quite as productive of it. In certain quarters children are brought up in such fashion that they respect but one country: their own; one system of government—that of their parents and masters; one religion—that which they have been taught. Does any one suppose that in this way men can be shaped who shall respect country, religion and law? Is this a proper respect—this respect which does not extend beyond what touches and belongs to ourselves? Strange blindness of cliques and coteries, which arrogate to themselves with so much in genuine complacency the title of schools of respect, and which, outside themselves, respect nothing. In reality they teach, "Country, religion, law—we are all these." Such teaching fosters fanaticism, and if fanaticism is not the sole antiseptic ferment it is surely one of the worst and most energetic. If simplicity of heart is an essential condition of respect, simplicity of life is its best school. Whatever be the state of your fortune, avoid anything which could make your children think themselves more or better than others. Though your wealth would permit you to dress them richly, remember the evil you might do in exciting their vanity. Preserve them from the evil of being loving that to be elegantly dressed suffices for distinction, and, above all, do not carelessly increase by their clothes and their habits of life the distance which already separates them from other children. Dress them simply. And if, on the contrary, it should be necessary for you to economize to give your children the pleasure of fine clothes, I would that I might dispose of you to reserve your spirit of sacrifice for a better cause. You risk seeing it fully recompensed. You dissipate your money when it would much better avail to save it for serious needs, and you prepare for yourself, later on, a harvest of ingratitude. How dangerous it is to accustom your sons and daughters to a style of living beyond your means and theirs! In the first place, it is very bad for your purse. In the second place, it develops a contemptuous spirit in the very bosom of the family. If you dress your children like little lords and give them to understand that they are superior to you, is it astonishing if they end by disdaining you? You will have nourished at your table the decadence—a product which costs dear and is worthless.

Any failing of instructing children whose most evident result is to lead them to despise their parents and the customs and activities among which they have grown up is a calamity. It is effective for nothing but to produce a legion of malcontents, with hearts totally estranged from their origin, their race, their natural interests—everything, in short, that makes the fundamental fabric of a man. Once detached from the vigorous stock which produced them the wind of their restless ambition drives them over the earth like dead leaves that will in the end be heaped up to ferment and rot together.

Next comes the proceed by leaps and bounds, but by an evolution slow and certain. In renouncing a career for our children let us imitate her. Let us not confront progress and advancement with those violent exercises called moralism; let us not so bring up our children that they will come to despise work and the aspirations and simple spirit of their fathers; let us not expose them to the temptation of being ashamed of our poverty if they themselves come to feel that.

A society is indeed blessed when the sons of peasants begin to feel disgust for the fields. To be Continued.

Wakeful?

Sleeplessness Is a Sign of Nerve Trouble and Should Be Looked To.

There are three different manifestations of sleeplessness.

First, hardly to sleep a wink all night, second, to awake a long time before falling asleep; third, to fall asleep soon, waking up after several hours and then find it hard to sleep again.

They mean that somewhere in the nerve fibers, somewhere in the brain cells, somewhere in the blood vessels that carry blood to the brain, something is radically wrong, and must be righted, or the end may be worse than death.

To right it, take Dr. Miles' Nervine. Some other symptoms of nerve trouble are: Dizziness, Headache, Backache, Worry, Protrusion, Irritability, Melancholy, Lack of Ambition.

They indicate diseases which may lead to Epilepsy, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervous Prostration, Paralysis, Insanity. Nothing will give such quick and lasting relief as Dr. Miles' Nervine.

"My husband had been sick for weeks, could not sit up, nor have his bed made. With all the medical help we could get he continued to grow weaker. He could not sleep or eat. Our baby girl was restless, and all nervous habits, he could not stand a bit of talking. I read of a case of nervous prostration cured by Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. We began giving it to him, and in a few days he was able to be dressed. From that time he steadily improved. Nervine saved his life."

EXPERIMENT IN FORESTRY.

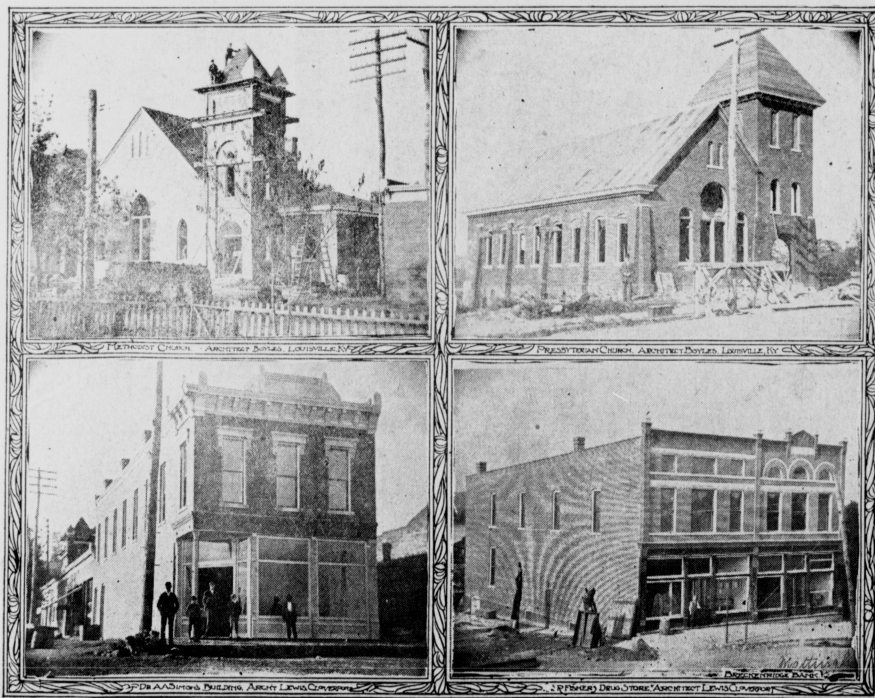

An interesting example of the possibilities of conservative forest management in this country is furnished by Dr. S. B. Caldwell of Paducah, Ky., who has dealt in timber land in the southwestern part of this State for fifty-eight years. "In 1847," says Dr. Caldwell, "I sold timber from a tract of land at $1 an acre, the purchaser having the privilege of removing what he wanted and leaving what he did not want. He took the choice trees, but left a considerable amount standing. In 1870 I sold the timber from the same tract and got for it $2 at tree. The purchaser removed an average of 3 trees per acre. In 1881 I sold the timber from the same tract for the third time, and got for it as much as I had received at the second sale."

Dr. Caldwell's experience in the woods taught him long ago the wisdom of conservative forest management. Thirty years ago, when he came into possession of a tract of about 700 acres near Paducah, he sold a quantity of the timber for wagon stock. At that time forestry in this country was virtually unknown. Dr. Caldwell, however, was sufficiently foresighted to allow no trees to be cut except those which he selected. He went about in the woods and picked out trees whose tops and general appearance showed they had passed their period of greatest vigor, and trees which interfered with promising young growth. His forest has been culled a number of times in the past thirty years, but so wisely has the cutting been done that to-day the land will average from 10,000 to 15,000 board feet per acre. This was an experiment in forestry which has amply justified itself, and shows how a shrewd, far-sighted man may, even without technical advice, secure good returns from his woodland without impairing its productive value and while putting himself in position to profit by the steady rise which is taking place in timber values.—Press Bulletin No. 68, United States Department of Agriculture.

REVIVAL ON AMONG NEGRO POPULATION.

Five Days' Preaching of Rev. T. Timberlake, Of Ohio. Results In Twenty-Five Conversions.

A revival among the colored population of the town, which may equal in number of conversions and reclamations the revival which recently closed at the M. E. church, South, is now in full swing at the Ethiopian Baptist church, of which Rev. A. J. Ballou is the pastor. It is very gratifying to the white citizens to know that there is a revival on of more than usual proportions among the colored people, and it will be doubly gratifying "it they will only keep it up" after the traveling member of their own race, who is telling them of the wickedness in their past lives and encouraged many of them to do better, has taken his departure.

Rev. T. Timberlake, of Springfield, Ohio, is the evangelist whose preaching is doing this great work for the colored people. He is preaching every evening to big congregations and services will be continued all this week. Several days' preaching resulted in twenty-five conversions, twenty of whom will become church members, and many more are expected by the pastor before the revival closes next Sunday. The revival is a general one, converts being asked to unite with any church of their choice.

Rev. P. L. King made a talk at one of the meetings which was highly appreciated, and a number of white citizens have attended some of the services. To all Rev. Ballou extends a cordial invitation.

It is believed that the revival among the white Protestant churches has had some effect, indirectly, in increasing interest in this revival among the colored population.

WORLD TO END SOON?

Decatur, Ind.—Waiting for the world to come to an end and advancing the creed of their sect, several families of this city, under the leadership of William Whittridge, formerly of Elgin, Ohio, are preparing for the millennium, which they say will come some time in April.

WOMEN NOT TRUTHFUL

This Statement Has Been Unjustly Made, Because Modest Women Evade Questions Asked By Male Physicians.

An eminent physician says that "Women are not truthful; they lie to their physician." This statement should be qualified: women do tell the truth, but not the whole truth, to a male physician, but this is only in regard to those painful and troublesome disorders peculiar to their sex.

There can be no more terrible ordeal to a delicate, sensitive, refined woman than to be obliged to answer certain questions when those questions are asked, even by her family physician. This is especially the case with unmarried women.

Is it any wonder, then, that women continue to suffer and that doctors fail to cure female diseases when they cannot get the proper information to work on?

This is the reason why thousands and thousands of women are now corresponding with Mrs. Pinkham. To her they can and do give every symptom, so that she really knows more about the true condition of her patients, through her correspondence with them than the physician who personally questions them.

If you suffer from any form of trouble peculiar to women, write at once to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will advise you free of charge.

The fact that this great boon, which is extended freely to women by Mrs. Pinkham, is appreciated, is shown by the many letters received by her. Many of these grateful letters are the following are constantly pouring in.

Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman Best Understands A Woman's Ills.

OFFICIAL REPORT.
(Central Methodist.)
The missionary institute for the western half of the Elizabethtown district was held at Irvington February 21 and 22, Rev. P. C. Duval, P. E., presiding. A very complete programme had been arranged by the P. E., and the brief run to which topics were assigned were, most of them, present and filled their places well. Altogether, in spite of somewhat unfavorable circumstances, the meeting was a success. There was interest and enthusiasm from the beginning to the end. The a term-on of the second day was given to the women's work. Miss Tula C. Daniel, representing the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, and Miss Ada Lewis the Woman's Home Mission Society. Miss Lewis succeeded in organizing a society with fourteen members.

W. A. Hyne, Secretary.

HAVE OWN PAPER.
George H. Newman writes, in part, as follows to Up To Date Farming concerning the local union, A. S. E., at Mattingly, of which he is a member:

"We meet twice a month and always have an interesting program after the regular business is disposed of. We have speaking, songs, recitations, and a paper is read. The paper is edited and read by one of the members."

This quotation is in the "Pine and Fine-Cut" column of the tobacco department of the paper.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brown died at her home near Guston March 3, 1905. She was born in Virginia, October 3, 1816, and moved with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Huddleston, to Kentucky in 1820, and was married to W. B. Brown June 2, 1836. To this union were born eight children, four of whom survive. She was a member of the Baptist church for over seventy years. She was a true and devoted mother, a kind and generous friend and none knew her better to love her. Her place can never be filled in the hearts of her children and grand-children. She was laid to rest at her old homestead March 4, amid a sorrowing crowd of friends and relatives.

THOUGHTS.

"God help our nation if temperance does not keep the control in our palaces and cottages, in our cities and villages."—Bishop Burgess.

The wheat crop never looked better at this time of year.

When the coffee's weak and cold there's a storm at our house.

The threat of cotton growers to hold cotton for better prices is causing some alarm in the cotton trade.

There is a place for every man in this town who wants to work and is not afraid of it when he gets at it.

JULIAN BROWN is a good man to have in any town. He's a hustler and is not afraid. He builds businesses and houses and sells and keeps his money moving.

FARMERS had in their hands on March 1, according to the Department of Agriculture, 111,000,000 bushels of wheat, 954,000,000 bushels of corn and 375,000,000 bushels of oats.

The Cloverport Foundry is running night and day and this means increased output, increased pay roll and increased prosperity for Cloverport. The new management is to be congratulated.

As a result of the general agitation against the Standard Oil Co. it has been discovered that the corporation has been escaping taxation on property valued at $2,500,000 in the state of West Virginia.

Mrs. Frank Fraize, who is sojourning at St. Augustine, Florida, puts us under obligations for late St. Augustine papers. There is a sweet satisfaction in being kindly remembered by far away visitors.

The walk ways on the Stephensport bridge need repairing. There is a hole in one walk way that a man or woman could go through, another that a child could step through. They are dangerous and need attention.

The people, the voters of this county want W. H. Bowmer to make the race for the Legislature. They say they would like to have the pleasure of voting for him. Now it is up to the politicians to nominate him.

MRS. G. A. FOOTE, of Bewleyville, dealer in pure-bred Plymouth Rocks and Brahmas, carried off two second prizes on her fowls at the recent poultry shows in Louisville and Owensboro. She has some as handsome birds as ever graced a pen and is doing a fine business.

CUTHBERT POWELL, a commercial writer, for more than a quarter of a century in close touch with the packing industry, declares that the average net profit of the packers, instead of 2 per cent, on the price of cattle as given in the Garfield report, is $7.41 per head, or 15 per cent, on the price of cattle, and that this profit is turned over every two to four weeks.

FARMERS are not letting go their tobacco, as some people predicted they would when the first "season" came. It is a fact that the farmers are getting closer together and standing firmer for their price with every succeeding day. There is practically no break in their lines. They are displaying the strength of the little Japs, and, like the Japs, they have a cause to stand for.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT's highest ambition is to be like Washington and Lincoln as near as he can. Now if the men who hold the offices in this country and those who are seeking them would emulate Mr. Roosevelt, troubles in our land and country, instead of increasing, would grow less. Emulating President Roosevelt is the highest standard of American manhood and citizenship, to our mind.

We are indebted to Col. Bert Cunningham, of Chenault, for a choice barrel of Ben Davis apples. No other man knows better how to produce them. It's nice to be remembered by your friends and no man appreciates these things more than the News man. Here's hoping, Colonel, that your years may be long in the land and that your orchards will continue to bear abundant fruit and your prosperity have no bounds.

The importation of a fifty-four horse power gas engine into this town by Mr. Eugene Haynes reminds us that twenty-one years ago we imported a little two-horse power gasoline engine, the first of its kind ever installed in the town. It was an old style machine run by gasoline and a hot tube. We used this for several years and then put in one run by natural gas, the first of its kind used and the first to utilize natural gas for manufacturing purposes. We are now using a fifteen-horse power and this will give you some idea of how we have grown.

HENRY MOORMAN's highest ambition, he says, is to walk the streets of Hardinsburg and have the people call him "Judge Moor. man." And when that comes, "I want to walk the streets with a baby in my arms calling me 'pappy.'" Laudable ambitions they are and the young man should be encouraged in them. He seems to have a cinch on the nomination by his party. And now, for a cinch on his final election, he only has to take a stand for the right, cut whisky entirely out of his campaign and say to the voters:

"I am going to make this race on high-toned, honorable principles. I am not going to use money or whisky to secure a vote, let others do as they may." Now if the young man will take our advice he will rally to his support all the good men and women in this good county of Breckenridge.

CLOVERPORT is growing in population, in business, in manufacturing, in buildings, in goodness, and in everything that goes to make a live-prosperous town. Put your faith in Cloverport and stick to it. If every Cloverporter would do his best and set his key to a tune that rings out each morning clear and strong to our opportunities there'd be life and enthusiasm in the old town and money and work a plenty for every man and woman in it. It's believing in one's self and in his town that makes things move. If you don't believe there's something doing in Cloverport watch the trains, and see the comers and goers; they load and unload here, and if there wasn't something doing people would not come and they would not go. Ask the bankers; they can tell you a tale of the money that flows in and out over their counters; their story would open your eyes, too. Nothing doing in Cloverport? Don't you never believe it.

We congratulate the church for their wisdom in calling so consecrated and brilliant a pastor as Rev. Lusk.—Sunflower Tocsin, Indianapolis, Miss.

WORTH HEARING.

It is expected that the concert to be given next Tuesday evening at Oelze's Hall by Louisville talent under the auspices of D. H. Baldwin & Co., and for the benefit of the Methodist Sunday-school, will be one of the best of the kind ever heard in Cloverport. The concert will be strictly high-class and will be worth hearing by every one. The prices will be popular.

BELL LORE.

Probable Origin of the Saying "Nine Tailors Make a Man."

The metal used for a bell is three parts of copper and one of tin, and this composition is almost as strong as the known history of mankind, for it was discovered by Layard in the bells of old Nineveh. The tin hardens the metal, but too much makes it brittle, and a bell is a dainty and delicate creature and above all things must not be driven to cracking. Sometimes an enthusiastic ringer will bump the bell against the wooden stay above and crack it. Sometimes the long falling of the clapper on a particular spot will make a crack, and the bell should be turned every generation or so to make the clapper fall on a new place. Clock hammers are the bell's great enemy, for they strike it sideways and not in the direction of its swing, and besides they sometimes catch it as it sweeps past. A ringer who to save his muscles rings a rope attached to the clapper will destroy the bell in next to no time.

Silver has now and then been tried for bells, but it is so soft that it is almost as useless as lead. In the middle ages, when a great bell was to be cast crowds of the faithful would sometimes make sacrifice of their gold and Formerly the "passing bell" was rung not after but before the departure of a dying person, which must have been very disconcerting to the invalid. The idea was that the soul got up out of the body and walked away, although invisible. So the bell was rung to warn the invisible world, the door and window of the sickroom were opened to give the soul a free choice of exits and all looking glasses were carefully draped over. For although you could not see the soul, you might catch a glimpse of it in the glass, with dire results to yourself unless the mirrors were carefully covered.—London News.

Shall and Will.
It is very well, writes a correspondent on the subject of grammar which excites correspondents as meter excites poets. It is well and easily done to rebuke the reviving Celt for his "shall" and "will." But are we really prepared to give him a rule? The customary glib and complacent answer that, roughly speaking, "will" implies volition and "shall" compulsion, in some degree, falls entirely to account for the intermingling of these verbs with change of persons. And when we express a mere future, without either volition or compulsion, we use "shall" for the first person and "will" for the second and third. "I will dine at 8, you will dine at 8, he will dine at 8." Why? What have we to say for ourselves to the Latin and the Celt? And yet the English child and the English costermonger, who may get nothing else right, never make a mistake in this most arbitrary custom.—London Chronicle.

Picture in Times.
Saturday's Louisville Times contained a large, handsome picture of Miss Pauline Moorman, of Hillsboro, Texas, who is visiting her aunt, Mrs. L. T. Roberts, of Stephensport, and who is well known in the county. The head over the picture was "Talented Visitor From Texas," Miss Moorman being an accomplished musician.

STATE FAIR CERTAIN.
At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Kentucky Live Stock Breeders' Association Monday afternoon it was decided to hold a State Fair in either Louisville or Lexington September 18 to September 23, inclusive. In view of the past experience of the association it was decided that no other cities would be considered.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lynch, of this place, went to Louisville Monday. Miss Anna Lamb spent a few days last week with Mrs. Albert Wright, of Roseville. Mr. and Mrs. Aretus Haynes, of Fayetteville, W. Va., are visiting friends and relatives here. A number of men from this place went to Strawberry Station Monday to work on the L. & H. St. L. roadbed.

A. T. Blain, of Memphis, Tenn., who has been visiting the family of J. M. Fawver, went to Louisville Monday on business. Rev. Galloway, of Fordsville, filed his regular appointment here Sunday and Sunday night, and on the account of so many deaths, the congregation was small. There were two corpses in this town Sunday night, that of James Lawless, and Mrs. Mary Simonton. Both funerals were held the following day at the M. E. church.

His Prescription Failed.
Doctor (after the diagnosis)—Apparently your system is run down from nervous superinducement by loss of sleep. My advice would be for you to try sleeping on your left side awhile. Fair Patient.—But, doctor, I am slightly deaf in my right ear—and my husband talks in his sleep.—New York Times.

Gladstone's Unpopularity.
Gladstone was not beloved. He was an institution. How can one love an institution? A member told me that he asked another Liberal why he disliked Gladstone. The reply was, "Oh, he is always so in the right!"—From M. D. Conway's "Autobiography."

WEEDS

Consumption is a human weed flourishing best in weak lungs. Like other weeds it's easily destroyed while young; when old, sometimes impossible.

Strengthen the lungs as you would weak land and the weeds will disappear.

The best lung fertilizer is Scott's Emulsion. Salt pork is good too, but it is very hard to digest.

The time to treat consumption is when you begin trying to hide it from yourself. Others see it, you won't.

Don't wait until you can't deceive yourself any longer. Begin with the first thought to take Scott's Emulsion. If it isn't really consumption so much the better; you will soon forget it and be better for the treatment. If it is consumption you can't expect to be cured at once, but if you will begin in time and will be regular in your treatment you will win.

Scott's Emulsion, fresh air, rest all you can, eat all you can, that's the treatment and that's the best treatment.

We will send you a little of the Emulsion free.

BRYAN'S SUGGESTIONS.

Lincoln, Neb., March 17.—In the Commoner issued to-day, W. J. Bryan says he has received many letters from the rank and file of Democrats announcing their readiness to begin the fight of 1908, and asking for suggestions. These he gives as follows:

"Let each Democrat pledge himself to attend all the primaries of his party to be held between now and the next Democratic National Convention, unless unavoidably prevented, and to use his influence to secure a clear, honest and straightforward declaration of the party's position on every question upon which the voters of the party desire to speak. This plan does not involve the writing of a platform in advance of the primaries; it does not rest upon the paramount importance of any one issue. It recognizes the right of the Democratic voters to control the policy of the Democratic party, and to determine its position upon public questions. It also recognizes the importance of honesty and sincerity in politics."

HAS HIS SUPPORT.

McQuady City, March 17, 1905. Mr. L. B. Oglesby, Cloverport, Ky. Dear Sir:—In response to your letter which you wrote Mr. Pile, and which he forwarded to me, I would say that I am in favor of any arrangement that may be effected to keep tobacco at home or out of reach of the trust.

I thought that "something" should have been done at Hardinsburg and, but for the reason that the call was so short, and the object unknown until you appeared on the floor, I believe there would have been some arrangement made.

We, probably, will not be represented but you have our hearty support. Yours, etc.

MISSISSIPPI LETTER.

Mrs. W. A. Lusk, formerly of this city, writes to the News from Indianola, Miss., in part, as follows:

"I see from the label on my paper that I must be renewing, for I can't think of doing without your weekly visits. When you fail to show your welcome face on Friday I am very much disappointed and feel like one who had missed the call of a very dear friend."

"Our weather is perfectly grand; oaks, dusty flowers all in bloom and all nature dressed in a new growth of delicate green."

"We have just finished our church and it is beautiful. We will begin tomorrow to repair and beautify our 'pastorium.'"

"Our lot is cash among a lovely people, for which we give thanks. Indianola is one of the most cultivated and most progressive towns I know of anywhere."

WILL PREACH SUNDAY.

To the people of Cloverport: I am glad to say that, after being hindered by illness, I have confident reason to announce that (the Lord being willing) I will preach at the Baptist house of worship next Sunday, March 26, at 11 o'clock and at 7 o'clock. I am not accustomed to announce my subjects in advance (seeking to be guided by the Holy Spirit) but I believe I have a burden from the Lord which I would like all to hear on each occasion.

I now think I shall preach in the morning on "The Christian Warfare" and in the evening on the "Narrowness of the Christian Way."

KENTUCKY CROP REPORT.

Condition of Wheat and Rye Not Up To Standard—Other Notes.

The last crop report issued by State Commissioner of Agriculture reveals is as follows:

The winter has been an exceptionally long and cold one. During the months of January and February the average temperature was much below normal for those months. The precipitation, while ample, was also below normal. The ground was covered with snow during a large part of the time, thus protecting the fall sown crops from the cold, dry winds that have a tendency to burn or frost the blades. While the wheat and rye crops are not up to the standard for the first of March, they gave a fair promise for an average crop. The severe fall drouth and exceedingly cold winter has prevented them from making a good growth; yet the stand is fair and the roots of the young plants have a good hold in the ground. There seems to have been a very small acreage of winter oats sown. This is no doubt due to the partial failure of this crop for the last two years. But few counties give an estimate of the acreage and condition of barley. From the few reports that are about an average. There has been a very small per cent of plant land burned for tobacco beds. But a few more days like the ones now prevailing and the farmers will get busy in this line and will prepare for an unusual acreage. The per cent of barley and dark sold up to this time is unusually small. The reports show that the acreage of meadows is about an average. While the condition of meadows and clover is very satisfactory, livestock all kinds having wintered well, except a severe loss of pigs and lambs caused by excessive weather. Stock coming out of the winter in such good condition can be accounted for by an abundance of feed and lack of cold winds. The weather, which are the usual flesh robbing factors during winter. Stock feed in some counties is reported as getting scarce. The numbers of cattle, sheep, hogs, horses and mules are about an average. There has been very little farm work done for two months which will entail an extra amount for the spring months. But taken as a whole the farmer has a great deal to be thankful for.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Friday was St. Patrick's day and few days were more generally observed the world over. To every part of the world the exiles of Erin have gone and with them have gone the cherished memories and traditions of the Emerald Isle and of Patrick and of the "Dear Old Sod." The offspring these have been bequeathed and children and grandchildren keep well and proudly the inheritance. The shamrock is the emblem of peace and Christian faith, having been immortalized by St. Patrick's use of it in illustrating the Trinity—three in one—and it is much more cultivated and honored in these latter days than that other Irish legacy, the shillelagh.

CASTORIA.

Beats the Signature of Castoria NEW STATE, MAYBE. Washington, March 16.—Col. Campbell Smith, the only Republican representative in congress from Virginia, and now solidly in the saddle as dispenser of federal patronage in that state, says he will introduce a bill at the next session of congress for the creation of a new state out of Eastern Tennessee, Southwest Virginia and Southern Kentucky. He has discussed the matter with President Roosevelt, who has given his approval to the proposition, which was first accepted by the trio of states which come together in the mountainous section of land to be included in the proposed new state.

CASTORIA.

Get rid of those pimples. Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup will do it. The druggists know.

IRELAND'S PATRON SAINT.

St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, a man whose deeds have been handed down in historical and legendary tales, was born in Scotland in 373 A. D. His early life was spent in wandering through Scotland and France, having been sold from the first named kingdom into slavery, his later taking him to Ireland. His sad lot, working with the swineherds and lowly beings, caused him to seek consolation in the Christian faith, and although but sixteen years of age, he decided to leave his bondage and preach the gospel of Christ to his fellow men.

He first went to France, where he studied under the old monastic rule, acquiring a fund of Christian knowledge which he used to advantage in after years. In 405 he began his missionary work in Ireland, and until the time of his death, in 461, labored without remuneration in the chosen fields of his labor.

St. Patrick was emphatically a man of deeds, and not words. Although he wrote an autobiography, he told very little of his own feelings and beliefs, submerging the whole into a confession of faith and recounting the wonderful influences of the Holy Ghost on his hearers.

His long life was spent in incessant labors, which met with considerable success. He found Ireland without a Christian—he died when there was not a heathen on the Emerald Isle. His literary remains are few, but interesting, inasmuch they show the character of the man, his faith, his confidence in his Creator, and his indefatigable labors for the spiritual advancement and welfare of Ireland.

The Colonel's Waterloo.

Colonel John M. Fuller, of Honey Grove, Texas, nearly met his Waterloo, from Liver and Kidney trouble. In a recent letter, he says: "I was nearly done of these complaints, and although I tried a family doctor, he did me no good; so I got a bottle of your great Electric Bitters, which cured me. I consider them the best medicine on earth, and thank God who gave you the knowledge to make them." Sold, and guaranteed, cure, Druggists, Bitters, and Kidney Disease, by Short & Haynes, druggists, at 50¢ a bottle.

ADVERTISING THOUGHT. John W. Wainwright, the successful advertiser, says: "There is only one way to advertise and that is to hammer your name, your location and your business so thoroughly into the people's heads that if they walked in their sleep they would continually turn their heads to your store. The newspaper is your best friend. It helps to build up the country which supports you. When the day comes that the newspapers are dead the people are near the edge of their graves, with no one to write their epitaphs."

FIRST IN THREE YEARS. The quarterly meeting conducted at the Methodist church, Wednesday and Thursday by Presiding Elder J. T. Rushing was the first of its kind meeting in about three years. It is necessary for quarterly meetings to be held at a number of churches in the district in mid-week and Cloverport's turn came last week. Many young converts took their first sacrament at the Thursday evening service. Rev. Rushing's sermons were greatly enjoyed, as they always are, and the attendance was much larger than usual.

FROM TREE TO PAPER. (Editor and Publisher.) A London writer says that a German paper manufacturer at Essental has just made an experiment to see how rapidly it is possible to transform a tree into a newspaper. Three trees in the neighborhood of his factory were cut down at 7:35 in the morning. They were instantly barked and pulped, and the first sheet of paper was ready at 9:30. It was lifted into an automobile that stood waiting and conveyed to the machine-room of the nearest daily paper. The paper being already set, the printing began at once, and by 10:30 o'clock precisely the journal was on sale in the streets. The entire process of transformation had taken exactly two hours and twenty-five minutes.

QUIET HOME WEDDING.

Mr. J. Elijah Gibson and Miss Lena Hamman married Wednesday.

Mr. J. Elijah Gibson and Miss Lena Hamman were married last Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's mother. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. T. C. Kerr, of Hodgenville, pastor of the Lucile Memorial Presbyterian church of this city. The wedding was a very quiet affair, only members of the families of the contracting parties being present.

Miss Hamman is a daughter of Mrs. Christina Hamman and the late M. Hamman, and a young lady with admirable qualities that have made her many friends.

Mr. Gibson is the son of the late Augustus Gibson, of the firm of Gus Gibson & Sons. He is a well-known and progressive young business man, who was associated with his father in the timber and lumber business for several years, and with his brother, Larkin Gibson, he will continue to conduct this business and also the Gibson House, of which his father was the proprietor. IN HANCOCK COUNTY.

The Methodist Revival—Farmers Not Pleased With Outlook. (Hancock Clarion.)

The protracted meeting at the Methodist church is in full swing. Rev. Newsum arrived from Cloverport Saturday where he had conducted a most remarkable series of meetings. His wife is with him. He first preached on Sunday morning, at the close of which and while the doxology was being rendered four notes of indebtedness, aggregating nearly $500, against the church and parsonage which had been paid, were burned in the presence of the congregation. This freed the property of debt and the members are proud of the accomplishments of Rev. E. R. Bennett in this direction. Rev. Newsum is an orator of much force and a successful minister. The first of the meeting is the very excellent music, in which Rev. Bennett displays a voice as full and musical as we have ever heard. It is not out of place to say that in contribution on this debt and property improve the Hancock Deposit Bank let out a note of $50, Cashier Thomas giving another $50.

A number of members of the American Society of Equity to whom we have talked are not pleased with the pooling plan as established by the co-operative warehouse at Overbrook. Instead of advancing $4.00 per hundred on all tobacco delivered, as they were led to believe would be done, $4.00 is the maximum price, with lower grades of tobacco receiving advancement at much less figures than the better grades. The plan of their tobacco in this scheme should investigate further before they do so.

Nellie Ann Taylor, a colored society belle of this city, was married to Lee Young, of Irvington, same nationality, Friday.

Frank VanCura was down from Hopkins Saturday looking over the field with the view of starting a lunch house here.

HAD LARGE FUNERAL. The funeral of James Walker, colored, whose remains were brought to town from Frankfort, where he died on Sunday, March 12, was held from the colored Methodist church last Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The funeral service was preached by Presiding Elder Davis, of the Danville district.

The funeral of Anna DeHaven, which was held from the Baptist church on January 2, Rev. A. J. Ballou officiating, was one of the largest colored funerals ever held in Cloverport; the funeral of the former being attended by a number of white people as well as a large concourse of people of his own race.

WORTH WIDE READING. The March 16 issue of the Central Methodist has a page devoted to a paper on "Opportunity," by Mrs. J. F. Prager, of Irvington, with the following editors, note prefixed: "The following paper was read before the Missionary Institute recently held at Irvington, Ky., and its publication requested by the brethren who heard it. It is certainly worthy a wide reading."

HAS FOUR CHURCHES. Rev. W. V. Harrell, formerly of Hardinsburg, writing to the Western Recorder, says: "I am now at Crisney, Ind. Will have charge of the churches at Crisney, Newtonville, Little Pidgeon and Pleasant Valley, one-fourth time each."

MAKES FIRST TRIP. The job of W. Thomas came down from Louisville Friday on her first trip this year in the Cannon and Louisville

EQUITY POINTERS.

(Up-To-Date Farming.) The speculative price makers die hard.

The man that holds the plow owns what the plow produces, if he is working for himself. If he owns it he has a right to put a price on it.

The farmer has no more right to put a price on the plow that somebody else made than the man that made the plow has to put a price on the crops the plow cultivates.

But after the farmer buys the plow, he may put a price on it, and sell it or not just as he pleases.

After crops are bought the purchasers add a profit. If the farmer controls the prices, he must do it while the crops still belong to him. This lets the dumpers out.

If the A. S. of E. were thoroughly organized, as it is rapidly becoming, and if all its objects accomplished, and its plans in operation, there would be no worthless curses out of a job that ever kicked the gravel on a tramp's high way. They would be the slick haired dinges that have lived all their lives by cheating honest men.

Incredible Brutality. It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "out a fearful gash over his eye, so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye." Good for burns and ulcers too. Only 25¢ at Short & Haynes drug store.

TWO IN BRECKENRIDGE.

A recent issue of Up-To-Date Farming gives a list of officers and workers of the American Society of Equity who will "accept calls and address meetings" and requests that they be written for terms. There are thirty-one names in the list, representing about half as many states. Out of this list Breckenridge county has two names to her credit. These are W. S. Ball, of Hardinsburg, and E. B. Oglesby, of Cloverport, who, as deputy presidents, have done great work in this section of the State for the A. S. of E.

A Safe Cough Medicine For Children. In buying a cough medicine for children never be afraid to buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it and relief is always sure to follow. It is especially valuable for colds, croup and whooping cough. For sale by Short & Haynes.

TRUST STRIKES SNAG.

Peoria, Ill., March 16.—The Prairie Oil and Gas Company, the Kansas branch of the Standard Oil Company, struck a snag when it reached Peoria county. The board of supervisors have refused permission to the company to lay its pipe line from Kansas to Indian Territory, across certain highways in the northern part of the county, and unless it can be induced to consider this decision the men now at work connecting the line will have to stop, and it will find itself with a gap in its lines which it cannot legally close.

ANOTHER RESULT.

Many good results of the recent revival at the Methodist church, have been already mentioned in the News, but there is another result that has become apparent recently and it is a most gratifying one. This result is of a general nature and is, in brief, the substitution of clean conversation in the railroad shops, the stores and on the streets for that which, previous to the revival, was not so clean. This is not a "made-up" statement, but a fact, to which our attention has been called by several.

NEW TIMBER FIRM.

Seaton & Weatherholt is the name of a new firm that will handle all kinds of timber, and lumber. J. D. Seaton and M. Weatherholt compose the firm. Both are progressive business men and should have every encouragement in this new business. Mr. Seaton has been in the timber business for several years.

THE ONE ONE SOLID SORE

Covered With Scales and Scabs From Head to Foot—Doctors and All Other Remedies Fail—Skin Now Smooth and Clear.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

Writing under date of Sept. 7, 1904, Mrs. Mattie Shaffer, of Cumberland, Miss., says: "Some time ago I ordered and received your wonderful Cuticura Remedies, which I used on my little afflicted babe with wonderful results. I had tried many other remedies without any benefit whatever, and Cuticura came to the rescue when my doctors and all other remedies had failed. One doctor pronounced it scrofula, the other eczema. The little one was one solid sore, with scales and scabs from head to foot, when I started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The result was wonderful, and now my baby's face and body are smooth and clear."

JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT

Was Alarmingly Afflicted With La Grippe. Cured by Pe-ru-na.

HON. W. H. PARSONS.

W. H. Parsons is Ex-State Senator and Ex-Special Judge of the Supreme Court of Texas, also Brigadier-General in Confederate Army. In a recent letter from 925 11 Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., this prominent gentleman says:

"Upon the recommendation of personal friends and many strong testimonials as to the efficacy of Peru-na in the treatment of the numerous symptoms of the grippe with which I have been afflicted for four months past, I have been induced to undergo a treatment with this justly celebrated formula. I feel a decided change for the better after using it only one week. It is especially good in toning up the stomach and has had a decided effect upon my appetite. I therefore feel much encouraged that I am on the road to complete restoration."

"My numerous friends in Texas, where I have had the honor to command a brigade of our Veteran Cavalry in a four years' war, may accept this voluntary testimonial to the merits of Peru-na as a sense of obligation on my part for its wonderful efficacy."—W. H. Parsons.

There is no remedy in the world that soothes while it stimulates, heals as it expurgates. Peru-na is not a purgative, gripper better than the remedy, Peru-na, or cathartic, or sedative, or stimulant, Peru-na strengthens as it renovates, not a vegetable or mineral poison. It reaches the source of all diseases of the mucous membranes by its action on the vaso-motor system of nerves.

Every person who has had la grippe during the last year should take a course of Peru-na. No one need expect perfect recovery unless they do so. The grippe produces a general inflammation of the whole mucous membrane, and good health is impossible until these are restored to a normal condition. This Peru-na will do. A great many remedies have been suggested for this condition from time to time, but Peru-na appears to be the only remedy that has any substantial value in these cases. It has never failed to give satisfaction during forty years' experience and still occupies the unique position of being the leading (if not the only) specific remedy for the after-effects of la grippe.

Henry Distin, the inventor and maker of all the band instruments for the Henry Distin Manufacturing Co., writes the following from 141 South Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pa.:

"I had a bad attack of la grippe last December which lasted more than three months, and which left me for this condition from time to time, but Peru-na appears to be the only remedy that has any substantial value in these cases. It has never failed to give satisfaction during forty years' experience and still occupies the unique position of being the leading (if not the only) specific remedy for the after-effects of la grippe."

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

There is more or less science in all businesses, more especially when it comes to handling a watch, a piece of jewelry or a pair of glasses.

We have made the jewelry business and the watch business our study for more than a quarter of a century and we flatter ourselves that we know something about it.

It's our life work and we take pride in it. We build on our reputation for honest work and good goods.
